Callidus Capital Corporation provides fast, flexible and creative funding solutions to companies that cannot access traditional lending sources.

These include companies that are experiencing growing pains, strategic changes, and/or financial distress. Our credit facilities have few, if any, covenants and are based on the company's assets, enterprise value, and borrowing needs.

Our experienced and focused team of financial experts is ready to help our clients expedite their move to the next phase of recovery or growth. With significant financing, operating and restructuring experience and a deep understanding of the realities of business, we approach risk from a business perspective and can be very creative, flexible and fast to meet our borrowers' needs.
